Students also will attend on Mon-day, Dec. 23, originally scheduled as part of the Christmas vacation. And they will attend three days of the final week of school in June, instead of having all of that week off.

THE PLANNING remains contingent on the number of days in which bad weather forces schools to be closed. Supt. John Palcheff said.
The number of emergency days in reserve has been trimmed from five to two.

The furners pay in 1984-85 ranged from $17,280 for a bachelor degree holder in the first year of teaching to $29,760 for a teacher with a master degree and 30 added hours of college credit, with 19 years of teaching experience.

THE NEW PACT ranges from $17,800 to $31,545 this year and from $18,800 to $33,435 next year, Paleheff said.

Including the Nov. 11 Veterans Day holiday and two weekends, the work stoppage by members of Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 lasted 15 days. A major issue in recent days was contract language on grievances. Binding arbitration was agreed to, but the list of items subject to it was narrowed from the group previously subject to advisory arbitration, negotiators said.

THE FINAL OBSTACLE to a set-tlement was the way in which the days of the strike would be made up to the satisfaction of both sides. This was resolved Monday night in talks that followed a brief board meeting and a teacher rally with citizens at Holy Trinity Hall.

Negotiations began in April and the teachers had been working without a contract since eage desired to the teachers and been working without a contract since eage desired to the teachers and been working without a contract since eage desired to the teachers will not have to attend classes past June 10, the last official day of attendance in the calendars.

Nepotisim alleged in township raises

RAISES FOR EIGHT workers in the Granite City Township assessor's office raised allegations of family favoritism by a trustee. Last week, members of the Town Board asked that Assessor Darlene Laub delay a yearly increase of $1,200 for six employees and a $282 yearly increase for two other employees. Town Trustee Woody Moad alleged she let family ties influence her decision in drawing up the raises; she denied it.

Fairness vs. past practice

To the Editor:

During negotiations, Supt. John Palcheff has been insisting that the binding arbitration clause could not work because we could never find an impartial third party who knows how our district works. He's probably right, because any impartial third party would demand fairness and justice from each defend Court in Apartial third party! in the person of Judge Beatty. When Mr. Palcheff was not required by our existing grievance procedure to admit that district policy was discriminatory, women coachesm after five years, sued the district.

He explained to the judge that the women coaches had always been paid less, and that a work our district that "what you call tradition is really discrimination."

We cannot live on our past good works, but each day we must try to do more.

The district will eventually be forced by the courts to pay the women coaches damages and back pay amounting to $10,000. However, because these teachers had to sue for equal treatment, the legal fees are $27,000 — and possibly more, because the district may want to appear to the property of the coaches are $27,000.

Gathering of candidate petitions may change

Legislation "cleaning up the state's election code" regarding circulation of nomination petitions has been passed by the Illinois General Assembly, according to a sponsor of the bill, State Rep. Sam Wolf (Dranite City). Wolf said House Bill 1109 adds two alternatives in completing the circulation, some petition sheet.

"Current law requires the circulation," Wolf said. "This has cuiator to indicate the actual date of circulation," Wolf said. "This has been interpreted by the State Board of Elections to mean that the date on the affidavit has to be the actual date the petition was signed by each registered voter."

"HB 1109 broadens the interpreta-tion to allow a circulator to indicate the first and last day of circulation, or the control of the control of the theory of the polition were ob-tained no earlier than 90 days before the close of the filing period." Wolf said this will streamline the petition process for everyone con-cerned.

"Under this bill, a circulator and the State Board of Elections will not have to worry about the exact day each signature was given, which, in most instances, would be very tough to investigate—considering that the signatures are gathered during a three-month period.

"Instead of concerning themselves with each individual signature and the day the signature was given, circulators only have to be sure that the gathering a signatures took place inside of the 90-day period.

"Another portion of the bill deals with viacancies on general election ballots," Wolf said. "If a name is moon the ballot for the primary, or neerson was nominated as a write-to-candidate, someone must be chosen candidate, someone must be chosen by the party's governing central committee to be on the general elec-tion ballot within 60 days of the primary."

Cigarette tax increase will aid school district

Passage of an 8-cent cigarette tax merease by the Illinois General Assembly sends a strong message to citizens that the state "remains committed to implementing educational reforms," according to State Superintendent of Education Ted Sanders.

"Educational reform is clearly not a one-year effort. The cigarette tax will help to provide the needed revenue to support our schools confuned efforts to improve programs for students," he said.

"Illinois now has one of the most comprehensive school reform programs in the country. The Assembly's action to assure funding for that program adds greater emphasis to statewide efforts to provide each child with the best education possible.

"Illinois" educational reforms have generated unprecedented support and enthusiasm for our schools. Passage of this tax removes any doubt about this state's willingness to fund future costs of meeting the educational needs of our children."

Berman chairs education reform panel

Sen. Arthur L. Berman, D-Chicago, last week was elected chairman of the Legislative Joint Committee on Education Reform during its organizational meeting in Springfield.

The committee selected as vice chairmen State Rep. Richard Mulcahey, D-Durand, and Rep. Gene Hoffman, R-Elmfurst. Sen. John Maitland, R-Bloomington, was chosen as secretary.

The panel, which was formed as an element of Senate Bill 730, the comprehensive education reform package approved this year, immediately adopted two goals which it hopes to implement.

Fifst, the panel will review progress of the programs and policies authorized by Seniate Bill 730 and related reform measures. Those policies include early childhood programs, school reorganization, stu-

The Dream Factory Brings Fantasies To Life

One of the unusual exhibitors at Travel-Expo '85 will be The Dream Factory. And while they fulfill dreams for seriously-ill children, they'll fulfill a cruise dream for some lucky winner at the Travel Expo.

Bahama Cruise Line has donated a cruise for two on the beautiful Bermuda Star.

Entry blanks will be available during the Expo at the Dream Factory booth, and also can be secured from participating travel agencies in the area as well as from Dream Factory representatives.

The lucky winner and a guest will enjoy a seven-day cruise from New Orleans to Key West, Fla and then on to Cozumel, and Playa Del Carmen, with an optional sic trip to Cancun. The latter three cities are in the Yucatan.

The Bermuda Star cruises depart every Saturday and return a week later to the same New Orleans-berth.

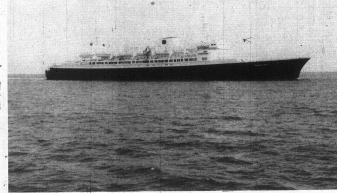

A special kind of luxury is aboard the 23,395-ton Bermuda Star. Spacious rooms on the nine passenger decks, a large stateroom and elegant public rooms are three features.

Outstanding cuisine and entertainment adds to a nassenger's enjoyment of the trip.

The Patt Holt Singers will perform at 2:30, 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. at the Omni International Hotel for Travel Expo '85. The group is directed by John Peters and Joe choreographed by Marilyn Mur. The St. Charles Division of Tourism is sponsoring the singers performances. A grand finale feature songs from the world of travel is planned for Sunday

Hundreds pack K of C Hall to support teenage parents

TITO LANDRUM of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals auction

Hundreds of people packed the Knights of Columbus Hall Friday night to meet celebrities, bid on a variety of items, and — more importantly—support the Parents Plus program.

Parents Plus is a support group that helps pregnant teenagers and those who already have children. Financial and educational assistance, in addition to counseling, is offered by the predominantly volunteer group, which receives monetary aid through the federal Ounce of Prevention program.

More that $8,800 was raised during the auction, but total proceeds including ticket sales have yet to be tallied.

The St. Louis Mental Health Services has pledged to match proceeds from the auction at 50 cents for every dollar raised.
